

C.R. Polytechnic, Rohtak, is one of the prestigious institutes run under the aegis of Jat Education Society. Since its inception from 1956, it has successfully fetched laurels in providing junior engineers to the society in various branches (that is-- Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, Electronics and Communication, Computers and Plastic Technology) under Government Aided Scheme. This leading Technical Institute of Northern India initially began with two-year courses in draftsman (Civil) at the time of its inception. All the courses undertaken have been duly approved by Director of Technical Education, Haryana, and All India Council for Technical Education, New Delhi. The present strength of students is around 950.

The Haryana Govt. has always been very kind and liberal in granting aids to this institution and this institution has also been working day and night for the all-round development of its students. The sincere and complete involvement of Management and staff members can be seen in the results achieved by the students in academics as well as various extra-curricular activities with a touch of magnificence.

Sprawling under the spacious lush greens in a pollution free environment, there are two academic blocks, separate hostels for boys and girls, residential staff quarters, a canteen and a well-equipped workshop. The labs (Physics, Chemistry, English and of all branches) are well equipped and well furnished.

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY
